Sponsorship opportunities

Taking place on 8-12 November 2021, the 'NCRI Festival: Making cancer research better together' will feature a number of topical sessions, panel discussions, debates and co-creation sessions on strategic topics, as well as proffered paper presentations highlighting the latest cancer research. This virtual event will provide a platform for basic scientists, translational researchers and clinicians to come together and learn from one another. Your organisation has the opportunity to support this on-going dialogue, or work with us to showcase your developments and breakthroughs by providing a sponsored session.
