NCRI Virtual Events - sponsorship opportunities

The NCRI Virtual Event series will continue into 2022 due to the overwhelming success of its launch in 2020, attracting over 9,000 participants! Many of these webinars have now become part of our new virtual event subscription service: 'NCRI Prime' - which allows participants to access a number of live virtual webinars throughout the year for a one-off charge. These events provide a platform for basic scientists, translational researchers and clinicians to come together and learn from one another. Your organisation has the opportunity to support this on-going dialogue, or work with us to showcase your developments and breakthroughs by providing a sponsored session.

The programme of virtual events will be promoted to the 12,900+ contacts within our database and through social media channels – Twitter (9,200 followers), LinkedIn (4,000 followers) and Facebook (1,000 followers). Additionally, the programme will be available on the NCRI Conference website (3,500+ monthly visitors).
